INTERNATIONAL PRELIMINARY REPORT ON PATENTABILITY

International application No.

PCT/FI 2004/000242

Box No. V Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	1-5	YES
	Claims		NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	1-5	YES
	Claims		NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-5	YES
	Claims		NO

2. Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7)

Amended claims 1-5 were filed on 17 February 2005.

Documents considered as being of particular relevance:

D1 WO03/002774
D2 US4128617
D3 SU827424
D4 EP0020904
D5 WO00/17407
D6 US5120447

In order to improve filterability of fine-grained waste material generated in a metallurgical industry, gypsum-containing waste material of a bigger particle size is added before filtration.

The claims have been amended to such an extent that all the documents cited above have been reconsidered not to be of particular relevance. The method is novel in regard to each of the documents. Documents D1, D2, D5 and D6 do not show the addition of gypsum precipitate as stated in claim 1. D3 does not show that gypsum is added singularly or the significance of the proportions and the particle size. D4 does not relate to the metallurgical industry.

The stated differences imply improvements as to the filterability of iron precipitate that has been obtained during the production of zinc.

Consequently, the method as defined by claims 1-5 is considered to involve an inventive step and is also considered to fulfil the criteria of industrial applicability.

PATENT CLAIMS

1. A method to improve the filterability of the first fine-grained waste material generated in a metallurgical industry, characterized in that before filtration fine-grained gypsum precipitate waste material formed in the same process is added in the first waste material, which is an iron precipitate generated during the fabrication of zinc, the amount of the gypsum precipitate to be added is 10 – 30 % of the amount of the iron precipitate, a particle size of the iron precipitate is in the region of less than 30  $\mu\text{m}$  and the particle size of the gypsum precipitate being at least twice as large as the particle size of the iron precipitate, and the precipitates remain stable in the same kind of conditions.
2. A method according to claim 1 or 2, characterized in that the first waste material is jarosite precipitate.
3. A method according to claim 1 or 2, characterized in that the first waste material is goethite precipitate.
4. A method according to claim 1 or 2, characterized in that the first waste material is hematite precipitate.
5. A method according to claim 1, characterized in that the particle shape of one waste material is spherical and the other needle-shaped.
